CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—The three United States army round the world flyers landed at Maywood field at 12:55 p. m. today while sirens, gongs, whistles and every noise making device in Chicago gave them welcome.

Thousands who had waited on the outskirts of the field for hours sent up a mighty cheer as the planes circled the field and glided gracefully to the ground.

The planes first hovered into sight about fifteen minutes earlier and were visible from the loop just as the towering buildings poured out their thousands for the lunch hour.

Soldiers who have been on the fire line since early yesterday and civilians turned hastily to the work of erecting dykes across all streets and other possible channels through which the burning oil liberated by explosion can run into the town.

The whole population of the town spent the night on the hills fringing the bay, fearful that another gasoline explosion might shower a flaming rain upon the town and possibly destroy it.

Flaming Torrent
Two of the known dead are soldiers, Privates Robert Boleo of Headquarters troop, Eleventh cavalry, and E. Watkins of E. Battery, who perished late yesterday afternoon when the first of six great oil storage tanks "boiled over," sending a flaming torrent of oil down upon 600 soldiers and half as many civilians who were working to remove government property from warehouses in the path of the flames.

SLAVES OF the Laxative Habit
Set FREE by "RED MIXTURE"

Those thousands of sufferers from dormant liver and bowels who have dosed and dosed with common laxatives until the habit has become pronounced; also those who dread to begin taking common laxatives because of the above tendency, will be glad to know that a real non-habit-forming Laxative has been found in "RED MIXTURE."

Its originator was an ex-army surgeon of note. He discovered the remedy after years of experimenting and introduced it 20 years ago in hospitals where it has been immensely successful. RED MIXTURE is its original hospital name.

The peculiar merit of RED MIXTURE lies in the fact that it builds up the system while giving relief; it is a Laxative that does not grip; it acts smoothly and without irritation; gently stimulates the intestinal muscles to action while dilating and destroying the insidious toxin poison that caused the trouble.

RED MIXTURE is positively a non-habit-forming. Consequently, as a Laxative for expectant mothers, infants and children, RED MIXTURE is particularly beneficial. A remedy that strengthens while it eliminates. Are you afflicted with spells of gaseous stomach, headache, nervousness and other ills resultant from faulty elimination? If so, try RED MIXTURE. For sale in 75c and $1.50 bottles. If your druggist cannot supply you at once, send his name and 75c to the Golden State Pharmaceutical Co., Long Beach, Calif., and we will see that you are supplied. SET ASIDE FUND FOR STREET WORK
Improvement of Roads
In Eagle Rock

EAGLE ROCK, Sept. 15.—The Los Angeles City Council has set aside $25,000 for the improvement of streets in the Glendale-Verdugo road section, following approval by the finance committee of this action. The board of public works had previously recommended the improvement.

This may be interpreted to mean that Glendale avenue, long in a poor state of repair, is soon to be resurfaced, according to Donald R. P. Woodford, secretary of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce.

Strict adherence to the school stop marks painted on Colorado boulevard and elsewhere in this community is being demanded by the Los Angeles police department, it is announced from local police headquarters in the City Hall, and all motorists violating the orders to stop will be subject to arrest.

Christmas Guests
Mrs. C. E. Slaght of Rockland avenue is looking forward to having her sister and mother from Missouri to spend Christmas with her.

Mr. and Mrs. John Riordan of Brooklyn, N. Y., and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Woodford, of Ellenwood drive, are on a short motor trip to San Francisco.

Mrs. F. Leland Meacham has returned from a week's visit in San Diego. The trip combined business and pleasure, since Mrs. Meacham resigned her position as secretary of the Eastern Star chapter there. She also spent several days at the house guest of Mrs. H. B. Goucher.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Sept. 15.—J. O. B. Bodkin, secretary of the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce, is steadily recovering from painful injuries he received over a week ago from a moving street car as it rounded a curve, according to reports from his sister's home, 936 North Beaudry street, where he is being cared for.

An address on reforestation will be given in connection with an exhibition of motion pictures on the same subject next Thursday evening at the school auditorium, by Mr. Franklin, head of the legal department of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. The illustrated lecture will be under the auspices of the Tujunga Kiwanis club.

Eight-inch pipe for the gas mains from Roscoe to Tujunga has been distributed along the state highway from east of Tujunga to Sunland. The trenches have been started at the Roscoe end by contractors. Three crews of ditch diggers and pipe layers are at work in Tujunga putting in the smaller lines to connect with the eight-inch mains. The Southern California Gas Co. is paying $3.50 per day for pick and shovel men.

The Reading Circle of the Tujunga Parent-Teacher association has resumed regular meetings on Wednesday afternoons. The first meeting was held at the home of Mrs. H. B. Lynch, president of the association, 156 South Sunset boulevard.

Busses operated by the Verdugo Hills Transportation Co. are transporting high school pupils of the Tujunga-Sunland district to and from Glendale. Pupils riding these busses will have their fares paid by the school, but those using other conveyances will receive no allowance for transportation, according to Mr. Oliver, business manager of the high school in Glendale. At present there are two busses in operation, one leaving Sunland at 6:45 a. m., Tujunga at 6:55; the second bus leaving one hour later. The return trips are made, leaving Glendale at 2:45 and 3:45 p. m., from the main school at Broadway and Verdugo road and picking up the pupils at the Harvard street school. A petition has been circulated and signed by a number of the parents of pupils asking the trustees to re-establish the plan of reimbursing the parents for transportation charges, whether or not the pupils use the official busses. No report has yet been received on this petition.

It has been announced that the Tujunga Women's club made a profit of $317.52 from the operation of a food and refreshment booth during the Moon Festival held at the close of August. Eleven dollars of this amount was made in the operation of a day nursery on the festival grounds.

Mrs. Mark White, president of the Women's club, recently entertained the members of the board of directors of the club and committee chairmen. Reports were read and refreshments were served. Among those present were: Mesdames George Buck, Norman Bell, George Kinder, Leo L. Lang, Theodore Perner, Barnaby, Anna Underhill, Flora Morgan, Kautz, Pratt, George Slusher.

Mrs. Mary Mills of the Tujunga Women's club has been made vice-chairman of the department of legislation of the Los Angeles district California Federation of Women's clubs.

A picnic association has been organized by former residents of Cedarville, Kansas, who are now residing in California. John Kautz of Tujunga was elected president and Mrs. Elmer Kautz was elected secretary at the first meeting held in Long Beach. Sixty members enrolled at the first meeting and more are expected as soon as the association becomes known.

Miss Margaret Reynolds entertained on the occasion of her tenth birthday with a dinner party to a number of her friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Reynolds, North San Ysidro street, San Francisco.

Makes Protest Over Condition of Tracks

Editor, The Evening News:—I have only been a resident of Glendale since last June, but have come to like it mightily well, and I can say that the same sentiments are shared by my wife and little daughter, who is about to enter the Glendale Intermediate school, being specially anxious to secure her high school education in Glendale, which city in the little village of New York City, where I hail from, has the reputation of having some of the best educators in the land.

Naturally, after hearing such good things about Glendale, I feel like the fellow who ought to leave his home and go to Glendale. But I have one little bit of a kick coming, and the only way to relieve myself of the kick is to let it out in The Glendale Evening News, which, to my way of thinking, is about the best thing I have ever had the pleasure of reading outside of my home town, and that's going some.

Now to get that kick going strong. The Pacific Electric railway no doubt has acquired, through the channels that are usually open to railroads when they want public patronage, the right of way to run its big electric cars made up like trains instead of street cars, such as we easterners are in the habit of seeing run along our main thoroughfares, directly along the main boulevards of Glendale, viz. Glendale boulevard and Brand boulevard, two most beautiful streets.

In securing this valuable franchise they undoubtedly had in mind the fact that some day Glendale would become a most prosperous city of the first class, and that eventually, if they made enough money, they would help at least to beautify the best thoroughfare that any car line could get hold of.

Social Forgiveness
To my mind they have forgotten the thoroughfare entirely, and are thinking only of the money that they are losing on other streets, for, if I am not mistaken (and here is where the big kick is to be registered) they have left the road along the line of the tracks (pardon the word trains) in a most deplorable condition. It has been my misfortune to gaze upon in any city that boasts of the population of Glendale.

Every day that dirty dust along the side of the tracks, which was undoubtedly intended to be the safety zone, but which is a farce to my way of thinking, has cost me an additional fifty cents, because I have had to have my shoes polished in one of the booths erected in Los Angeles for the purpose.

Now, if you add that fifteen cents expense every day, Sunday, of course, excepted, for I stay at home in Glendale then, to the thirty-eight cents a day charged by the Pacific Electric from Glendale citizens, who probably never intend to fight for a lower fare, then you have quite an expense account to charge to the negligence of the Pacific Electric.

Probably, though, if the truth were known, the citizens of Glendale are somewhat to blame for the condition of the splendid boulevards along the line of the cars, for if they would elect the mayor and the council interested in having this murky way (I was just about to write "milky way," but desisted in time) cleaned up by the Pacific Electric and a decent pavement laid along the line, then there is no doubt but that a way might be found to eventually widen the boulevards, and Glendale might make its main streets a sight for the eye instead of an eyesore.

The other day I attended a meeting in the Glendale council chamber where your energetic mayor and councilmen listened to the demands of some of the citizens of Glendale for a new bus service along the east Colorado avenue, and to the east of the city. I read in The Glendale Evening News that the citizens were going to get what they asked for. Now if the citizens of Glendale can get what they ask for from the mayor and the councilmen by asking for what they want, why, in the name of common sense, can't they ask the same body of lawmakers and ask to have the finest boulevard that a city can possess made a thing of beauty and a joy forever. Am I right about the kick?

At any time if the citizens so wish, they may be able to find some way by appointment through the columns of The Glendale Evening News, ready and willing to give up time from my business to meet them and in a body go before the proper authorities, in order to find out exactly who is responsible for the condition of the main line of travel.

No remedy exists, then we ought to know it. If the Pacific Electric can be made to improve the thoroughfares protected by franchise, then let us find out why the franchise was thus worded. We ought to have the dust laid now before the rain makes mud, but we really ought to have something done. May I hope that this letter is not too long. The Glendale Evening News may find space in its columns to publish my one big kick.

Your new citizen or one that will be.
L. M. FISHER.

Fight Over Patent Paving General Pershing Retires Burbank—Good And Bad Income Taxes Are Due
By Gil A. Cowan

Glendale had its row over patent paving. Now Los Angeles council is split over aforesaid subject.

Another cause for argument is traffic signal devices upon which metropolitan councilmen cannot agree.

All of which reverts to City Hall lobbyists putting across their pets on and through public servants.

Lobbying at home and abroad, in council meetings and in congress, has reached development recently never dreamed by Mark Hanna and other powers behind the thrones twenty years ago. Surely the world moves.

General John J. Pershing has said goodbye to "his army." As chief of staff he retires with little recompense other than satisfaction.

Most satisfaction will come, perhaps, from knowledge that Deane Day was successful, that civilian America stands prepared to meet any emergency.

This writer, among thousands of others, heard General Pershing's speech broadcasted from Washington and relayed here by KGO, Oakland. That, in itself, was rare, but words of America's greatest warrior, which you have already read in the papers, pleading for peace, telling what price was paid in blood on foreign battlefields, urging further action for insurance against further war—that was more rare and advice to be treasured.

Burbank's industrial exposition attracted wide attention last week. It was worth seeing. Glendale and Burbank are neighbor communities which are children of destiny. Ten years ago this writer gleaned news of Burbank's activities and enjoyed with natives the peaceful bliss.

Now Burbank is more metropolitan. Recent news stories tell of two arrests, one a café man held on statutory charges, another "the queen of Mojave" being arrested for speeding and held on liquor charges.

Burbank is not to be blamed. Wickedness, like idle thought, flits hither and yon. Glendale has had its scandal. Would that there were less.

Last installments of income taxes are due today, Monday, September 15. Just a reminder, although everyone would like to forget it.

VETERANS RALLY AT ANNUAL CAMP

Relief Corps Worker Tells Of Enthusiastic Meet at Santa Monica

Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshel of 308 North Orange street, prominent member of the Women's Relief Corps of the N. P. Banks post, G. A. R., has returned from the recent encampment of the Southern California Veterans' association at the Pacific Palisades with a most interesting account of the gathering. Her story of the summer's trip, as hereafter printed: "The Southern California Veterans' association and auxiliary have just closed their thirty-seventh annual encampment, which was held at the Pacific Palisades grounds, located about one mile from Santa Monica, in the beautiful Temescal canyon.

Ideal Campgrounds
"This is one of the ideal campgrounds with which California abounds. A small brook, with its rustic bridges, runs through the camp, surrounded by hills and mountains which, with their many picturesque trails, make it interesting for hikers, while its close proximity to the ocean makes it convenient for bathers.

"The grounds are covered with magnificent old sycamores and live oak trees. The auditorium has a seating capacity of 1200; a cafeteria and store are maintained on the grounds. Tent houses equipped with electric lights, cots and kitchenettes with gas plate, dishes, etc., can be had at reasonable rates.

Greet Arrivals
"On the morning of September 2 a goodly number of veterans and their auxiliaries were on the grounds. The first day was consumed in getting our assignments and settled for the routine of business, but through the kindness of the Old Boys of '61 as they met each new arrival.

"Prayer services were held in the auditorium each morning, conducted by the chaplain, Rev. C. R. Norton, and a splendid program was given each evening, with music and social life intervening.

"On Sunday memorial services were conducted by Chaplain Norton for deceased veterans. Mrs. Sarah Brown, chaplain for the auxiliary, conducted the services for deceased members of that organization.

Dinner Is Event
"The big event of the encampment, which the veterans look forward to, is 'bean day,' all the sumptuous dinner is prepared and served cafeteria style, the veterans marching in first, two by two. After they are all served, the women and children are allowed to march in and receive their dinners. The menu consists of ham sandwiches, baked beans, pickles, cheese, p.e. coughnuts, coffee and tea. About 300 were fed at this dinner and 400 women and children. Forty disabled veterans, some of whom were blind, others minus an arm or leg, were seated and served by the waiters on the platform. Among them was one dear old army nurse, Margaret Hayes of Los Angeles.

"Our national president, Grace B. Willard, of Los Angeles, with her genial smile, was present to greet the comrades and assist in serving them.

Half Century Club
"One unique feature of the association is an organization known as the 'Half Century Club,' all veterans of the Civil war, and their wives, who have lived together for fifty years, are eligible. This club was organized in 1922 by Comrade W. C. Miles of Inglewood, he being elected president, and is still retained in that office. So far as we can find out, there is not another such organization in existence.

"We now have a membership of more than 200. N. P. Banks post and W. R. C. alone have sixteen members. On Monday the club held a picnic dinner in the park on the grounds. About 150 sat down to the tables, which were loaded with a delicious picnic lunch. Music was furnished by the veterans' drum corps, which played throughout the encampment. George Peterson, a Glendale boy, was camp bugler. As usual Glendale was well represented."

Mrs. Houdyshel is press correspondent for the department of the W. R. C.

ST. PAUL GREET LEGION MEMBERS
Sixth Annual Convention of Veterans Starts In Riot of Cheering

By A. S. HALL
ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 15.—With numerous bands blaring forth "California, Here I Come," and amid shouts from more than 20,000 members of American Legion posts and auxiliaries scattered throughout the United States, Mexico, Canada, Hawaii and Europe, National Commander John R. Quinn, of Kern county, Cal., this morning banged the gavel that officially opened the sixth annual meeting of the former service men.

Briefly the national commander welcomed the delegates to the convention, and his speech was followed by addresses of welcome from the mayor of St. Paul, representatives of various organizations, the state commander of Minnesota, and the governor of Minnesota.

California Band
The entrance into the convention hall of California's first winning band, which took first honors at the San Francisco meeting last year, was the signal for prolonged cheers, and National Commander Quinn thanked the musicians after they had played a number of California songs.

California's mascots, the live California bear sent by the post of Northern California, and the ostrich, "Rudy," sent by the post of Southern California, marched

WORKERS ALL READY FOR START OF 'Y' CAMPAIGN

OLD TIMERS AT ANNUAL OUTING

About 100 Attend Meeting of Association at Home Of J. C. Sherer

The old pepper trees of Somerset Farm, 717 South Verdugo road, planted by J. C. Sherer in 1883, looked down Saturday afternoon on the oldest group of settlers in all the valley. It was the twenty-first annual gathering of the Old Settlers' association, headed by Mr. Sherer since its organization in 1904. Approximately 100 were present.

Since 1917 the association has met annually at Somerset Farm, the second Saturday of each September, and there under the shade of those majestic trees the members have exchanged reminiscences of days long gone, days when California breathed a fragrant breath of romance and the pioneering spirit was at its height.

Old Spanish Deed
 It is particularly fitting, the members feel, that these annual gatherings should be held at Somerset Farm, for this is a part of the original 200 acres deeded back to Julio Verdugo after the great rancho of his family, comprising the whole valley, had been bought at auction by Alfred H. Chapman in 1869, following foreclosure on a mortgage of $3445.37, dated December 6, 1860. Mr. Sherer bought his five acres in 1880 for $50 an acre. Today the property is valued at more than that a front foot.

Following luncheon, some members of the Old Settlers' association strolled about the picturesque grounds, talking in low tones, wrapped up in precious memories, while others played

Good Business Is Being Predicted On Pacific Coast

Pacific coast traffic has recovered from the ill effects of the hoof-and-mouth disease and drought of the spring and early summer months, and is developing well enough now to expect a volume this fall very closely comparing with the record movement of last fall, according to President William Spruille of the Southern Pacific company.

"Generally conditions on the coast are excellent," he is quoted as saying.

Lecturer to Reveal European Conditions

Dr. Lincoln Wirt, western secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War, will address the men's club of the Congregational church Tuesday night, September 16, on "Behind the Scenes in Germany, France and England," following the monthly supper which will be served by the women of the congregation at 6:30 o'clock. Dr. Wirt is a writer and lecturer of note and has been in close touch with international affairs for many years.

A charge of 50 cents per plate will be made for the supper, and the members of the congregation and their friends are invited to attend.

Local Elks to Name Convention Delegates

Delegates to the state convention opening Wednesday at Catalina, will be named tonight at the meeting of Glendale Elks in the clubhouse on East Colorado street. CITY SCHOOLS SHOW BIG INCREASE

Enrollment to Exceed 5000, Is Estimate; May Result In Half-Day Sessions

Thousands of Glendale homes gave over their children today to the care of the twelve city schools, and the shouts and laughter of the kiddies skipping along the streets and racing about the school grounds, full of pent-up energy gained during the long summer vacation, made many grown-ups recall with envy the bygone days when in the early fall they had tucked their books under their arms and set off whistling on the road to school.

While it is felt by Superintendent Richardson D. White that the enrollment will exceed 5000, no accurate check has yet been completed. Last fall the city schools opened with 4,304 pupils, maintaining a 23 per cent increase that has characterized the growth of the Glendale schools for several years.

More Teachers
 Were this percentage to be maintained, this year's enrollment would reach 5,294 pupils. In anticipation of a large increase, the teaching staff has been raised from 156 to 193 teachers.

Today is what is known as a "minimum day," all grades from one to two and three letting out at 1:40 o'clock, according to Mr. White, while the kindergarten kiddies were all allowed to go home at 11:30 o'clock this morning.

Judging from past experience, it can be expected that the Grand View and Acacia Avenue schools will be the most crowded and here at least, Mr. White is certain there

Occidental Opens For Fall Season; Big Attendance

Occidental college opened for the fall term this morning with a huge enrollment, far exceeding that of the opening day last year. The exact number of students registered will not be known until the lists have been officially checked.

President R. D. Bird, head of Occidental college, delivered a speech of welcome to the faculty and students at the first assembly held in the chapel this morning.

J. B. Currier Winner In Drawing for Auto

The streets in the vicinity of West Broadway and Central avenue were choked with automobiles and pedestrians yesterday afternoon when H. J. Seely, proprietor of the Ever-Ready Service Station, 101 South Central avenue, held the drawing to determine who should receive the Ford coupe that he was giving away to the holder of the lucky number.

The prize went to J. B. Currier, 315 West Colorado street, on the second call, the holder of the first number not being present when it was drawn from the barrel.

Mr. Seely plans to give away another Ford coupe on December 28, he states, and each week he will also give away merchandise prizes to the value of $50 to the holders of the ten winning tickets.

BOND ISSUE OPPONENTS BARRED

Those Not In Favor of All Projects Not Allowed In Committee Meetings

A resolution adopted by the executive committee of the Citizens' Bond committee, meeting this morning at their headquarters at 102 East Harvard street, placed the committee on record as taking the stand that the meetings of the committee be closed to all who are not members of the committee and who are openly and avowedly opposed to the passage of all the issues that are to be presented to the people of Glendale in the special election on September 30.

The action of the committee was taken in the case of R. Belcher, a member of the Citizens' Bond committee, who was not appointed a member of the executive committee, and who admitted that he is not in sympathy with some of the issues that are to go on the September 30 ballot.

Outline Campaign
 After a lengthy discussion that threatened at times to grow heated, Mr. Belcher was excused, and left the meeting.

In the absence of Chairman D. H. Smith, L. H. Wilson acted as temporary chairman. Representatives of the committee will appear before the various service clubs at their meetings this week and will present the case in favor of the passage of the bonds. Chairmen of the various sub-committees will be permitted to enlist the services of assistants who are in sympathy with the bond projects.

L. H. Wilson was appointed chairman of the publicity committee, in place of W. L. Twining, who has asked to be relieved of this post. R. Ernest Tucker, will have charge of the publicity work, and Paul E. Stillman, James M. Rhoades, J. M. Boland and George B. Karr have been appointed as additional members of the publicity committee, to act in an advisory capacity.

Need Campaign Fund
 Plans will be put into effect at once to raise the required campaign fund of $1500, and an appeal will be made to those who are known to be in sympathy with the bonds for contributions to the fund.

At a meeting of the publicity committee at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon the speakers who will address the mass meetings that are to be held, and who are to speak at the various theatres, will be selected.

Mrs. Bess Hill, 412 Fisher street, assumed her duties on the clerical staff of the committee this morning.

The selection of a permanent chairman to succeed D. H. Smith, who leaves for the east tomorrow, will be made at an early meeting of the committee.

Entertainment Tonight At Packer Auto Co.

A special formal showing of the three new models put out by Studebaker will be held in Glendale at the Packer Motor company, 245 South Brand boulevard, tonight.

A feature of the evening will be an entertainment by the Famous Singing Four, a widely-known group of musicians, who will furnish entertainment for the guests of the Packer Motor company, and for the rest of the week the cars will be on display in the local agency, with the salesmen on hand every moment the show-rooms are open to book advance orders.

Besides the three cars on display, there are pictures and descriptions of the entire line of fifteen new body styles, and the factories at the Studebaker plants are driving ahead under forced draft to supply the demand for the new models. It is worthy of note that all the new bodies are being built exclusively in the Studebaker body plant that was recently equipped at a cost of $10,000,000.

Each new model of the fifteen is a complete refinement of the previous line. The designs are new, something never before seen on an American automobile, indicating that Studebaker has again pioneered in its own chosen field. Hundreds of Glendale people visited the Packer salesrooms Saturday at the pre-showing of the new models, and were greatly attracted by the novel innovations in the new line of Studebakers.

MEMBER CAMPAIGN
 With the return of Glendale people from vacation outings the Broadway Methodist church is to hold a house-to-house campaign for members for the Sunday school and church. This drive for members is to be in progress this week. Rev. L. J. Millikan, pastor, assisted by Rev. B. L. Sutherland of Hollywood, will launch a revival campaign next week.

Proclamation

TO ALL CITIZENS AND FRIENDS OF OUR BOYS AND GIRLS IN GLENDALE:
 Glendale is on the eve of one of the most important financial campaigns ever waged in this valley.

The objective is $275,000, all or none, the sum needed to provide Glendale one of her greatest needs—a complete building and equipment for the work of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Glendale people will be put to the paramount test as to public spirit, civic pride and philanthropy in the seven days assigned to this task, September 16-23.

The challenge is not only to community standing in order to have Glendale keep pace with other cities of similar and smaller population in provision for Y. M. C. A. work but more important than building prestige is the challenge of the recognized needs of the youth of Glendale for just what a Y. M. C. A. building will provide in preventive and constructive advantages, assuring character training and development of incalculable value to the future of Glendale.

Two hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars is comparatively a small investment for a rapidly growing, resourceful community when the great good to be accomplished is considered. MEN MUST MOBILIZE MONEY TO MAKE MANHOOD through approved, experienced and authorized agencies if the great economic, social and religious problems of the city are to be adequately solved.

The entire region of Glendale and vicinity will benefit by the production of the Glendale Y. M. C. A. plant and program. The residents of this community are therefore called upon to respond to the privilege which is theirs of sharing in making the building fund possible. Extended payments make generous contributions possible. On behalf of the boys and girls of Glendale we call upon every friend to give toward this $275,000 fund promptly, gladly and generously.

GEORGE D. McDILL, General Chairman.

Daily Greeting To News Readers

Growth is gladdening. He who grows in holiness grows in joy. Spiritual strength brings gladness. It is a poor, half-hearted religion—not spiritual power, but the want of it—that breeds gloom.—Anonymous.

MARRIED WOMEN'S RIGHTS ASSAILED

J. R. McCarl, controller general of the United States, has stirred up a hornets' nest by ruling that married women employed by the government must use their husband's names on the government payroll.

It is a rather foolish and childish obsession of many modern women that they lose their personality by taking their husband's names, but if they choose to retain their unmarried surnames, it looks as if the husbands are the only ones who have any objections coming.

McCarl's decision has stimulated considerable discussion, but it is entirely futile controversy, for the question is unimportant and one in which agreement will never be reached. Everyone has his opinion and his right to it. The Lucy Stone league, which has devoted and dedicated its existence to the principle that a married woman can, and of a right, ought to, sign her maiden name every time she has occasion to sign her name at all, is greatly wrought up over the ruling.

There are so many important things to be considered that it would seem the part of wisdom for the government to let a little matter like this pass unnoticed.

The New York Bulletin, commenting upon McCarl's decision, offers this suggestion:

"The thing for the government to do is to compel married women to quit their jobs in Washington and replace them with unmarried women. Let the married women go home, cook their husbands' meals and rear their families. Let them quit their cafeteria menus, their Pekinese petting apartments and their 'I-am free' existences."

NATION WILL LIVE

If we read and believe all the political candidates tell us about their opponents, we shall likely despair for the future of the country. There is no hope for the nation at all, no matter what party comes into power. The Christian Science Monitor takes the stand of Garfield, when President Lincoln was assassinated, "God reigns and the government at Washington still lives."

The Democratic candidates tell us that the re-election of Coolidge will be a national calamity. The Republicans say the same of the Democrats, and La Follette says much worse of both. In case none of the three candidates for president receive a majority vote and the election is thrown into Congress, we are told that chaos will result. That would be unfortunate for the man chosen would not, it is probable, be the choice of the people, but the nation would survive even that.

The motto, "Trust in Providence, but keep your musket loaded," is a good one for voters. It is necessary to work as well as to pray, but Providence has almost always raised up a man for us in our hour of need, so it might be well to trust a little more and worry a little less about the outcome of the November election, after studying the situation impartially and voting according to our best judgment, of course.

WET PROPAGANDA IN FILMS

It is said that in most of the large cities of the country working men who formerly spent their wages at the corner saloon are taking their wives and children to the movies. Good! Another vindication for prohibition! But, what do they see in the films? There is scarcely a motion picture which depicts the wealthy class or society folk but liquor is drunk as a matter of course. This leads to the charge that the poor man has been deprived of his liquor because he cannot afford to buy it, but the rich man may still have his, a charge which is all too true.

These drinking scenes in the films are the most subtle of wet propaganda, for it is seemingly not propaganda at all, merely the showing of life as it is.

Mr. Hayes is cleaning up the films, it is claimed. By eliminating some of these scenes he could help to increase respect for law, for they are no more nor less than an attempt to create and nourish contempt and disrespect for the eighteenth amendment and to show that it is not being, and cannot be, enforced.

Thousands of children and young people go to the movies every day, and these drinking scenes are helping to mould into the plastic minds of these future citizens the idea that it is clever to disrespect and outwit the law.

JAPANESE CULTURE DIFFERENT

Americans who feel that Japanese and American culture are so different that they cannot mix, are sometimes criticized and accused of selfishness, when it is not superiority they feel, but difference. It is of interest to know what other countries think of Japanese immigration and assimilation.

The Rt. Hon. William Morris Hughes, former prime minister of Australia, says, "We Australians are profoundly convinced that the East and West cannot meet and live together as one people. We admire the Japanese people; we pay unstinted tribute to their wonderful achievements, to their industry and their patriotism. We desire to trade with them and to live at peace with them. But, their ways are not our ways; their concept of life differs fundamentally from ours; their standard of living, their social life, their religion, their history, their traditions are as far from ours as the poles are asunder. We believe that our policy is not only best for us, but is best for Japan, for the east and for the world."

THE IRISH REPUBLIC

Senator La Follette announces that if elected he will recognize the Irish republic. This would cause complications. It would mean the dismissal of Prof. Smiddy, the Irish Free State minister at Washington, a man whose education, personality and training make it possible for him to maintain the closest friendship between the United States and the Irish Free State, and to promote commercial relations between the two countries. It would also necessitate the dismissal of the Irish consul in New York who vices the passports of visitors to Southern Ireland.

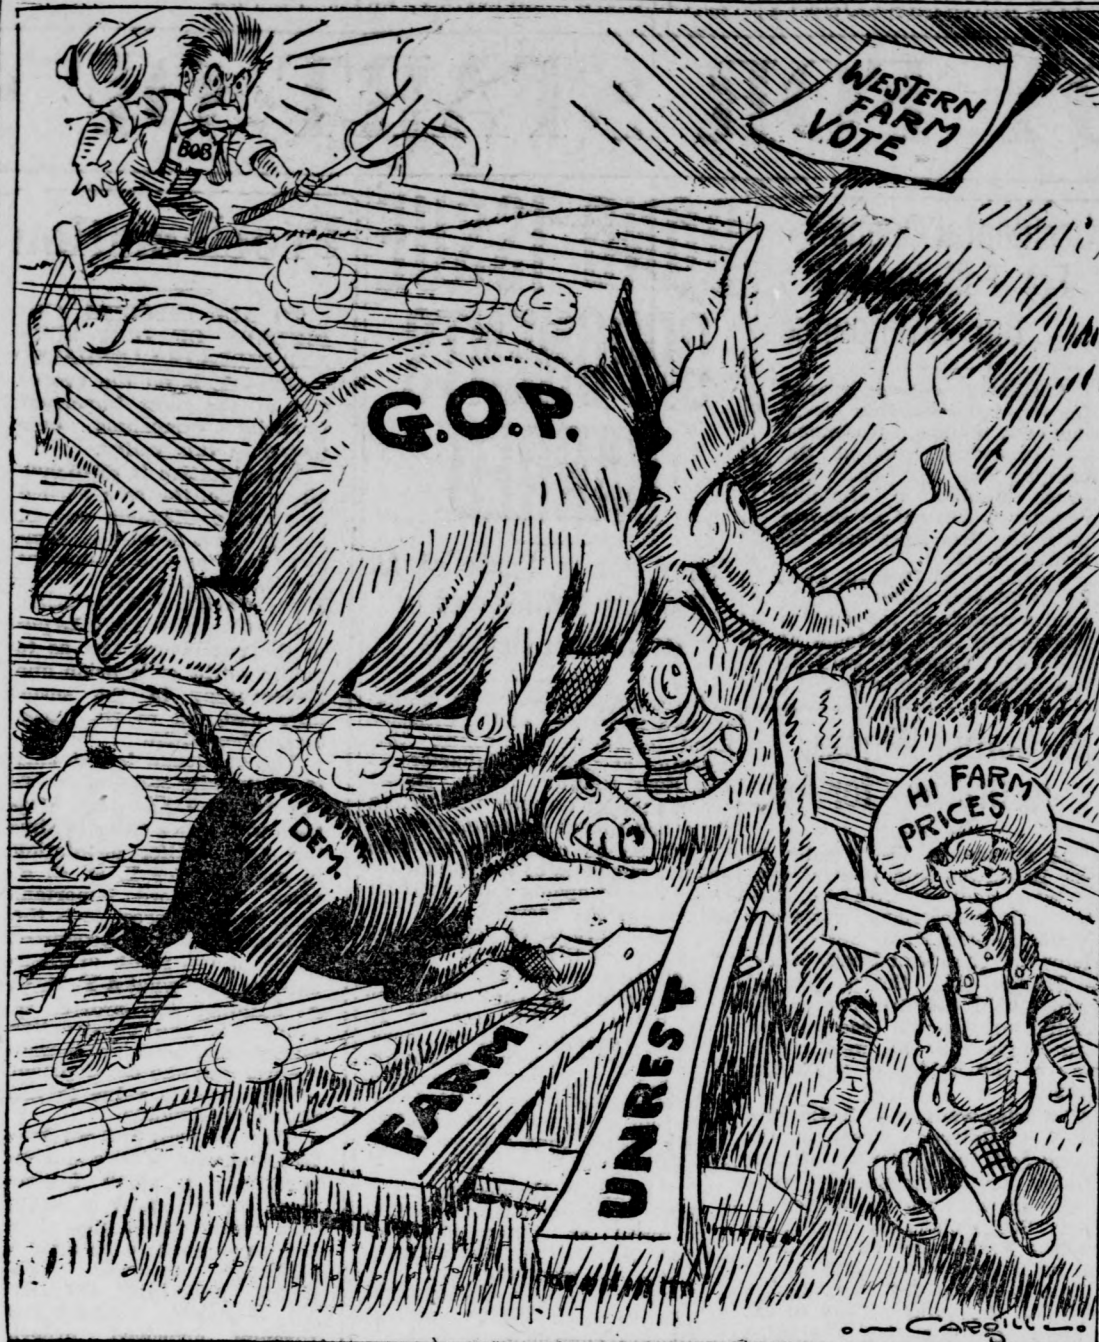

The great Irish poet and Senator, William Butler Yeats, ridicules the attempt to revive the Gaelic language in Ireland, which means, he says, that the schools will be diverted from their real task of giving the children an education that will fit them for citizenship in a modern world.

You can't expect much progress in the school room unless there is intelligence in the janitor's room.

La Follette is said to aspire to be the Progressive bloc head.

Well, anyway, a golf widow isn't worried with weeds.

Education

By DR. FRANK CRANE

According to Dr. A. Duncan Yokum, professor of educational research of the University of Pennsylvania, the radio, the motion picture and the automobile have turned educational methods upside down.

"The average child," says Dr. Yokum, "who has a radio is gaining more of a knowledge of the world he lives in than was possessed by the well-educated man of fifty years ago. The children have grasped the scientific construction of the radio in a way that amazes their parents. What we, as parents, must do now is to teach them how to apply all of this mass of real experience that is coming into their lives. It has become our task to make the child articulate of the world about him."

Dr. Yokum recommended the "project method" to teachers, which consists in training the pupils to put into actual practice the scientific theories that have been explained to them. The project method develops the skill of the pupil by showing him how to make some practical article by scientific means. By this means a bewildering mass of details are made clear and the child given a more complete understanding of the world about him.

Twenty-five years ago, Dr. Yokum said, the phrases which were used by educational writers were "training the mind," "mental discipline" and "strengthening the faculties." These phrases indicate a type of education involving school subjects and methods which have little or no bearing upon any task which the pupils may be required to perform out in the world, or any problem which they will have to solve, or any undertaking in which they may be interested.

Education, however, that is designed to secure mental discipline, according to the doctor, should take but slight account of the usefulness of any subject in dealing with which the discipline is to be gained.

Those who are abandoning such phrases as those quoted above maintain that pupils should be required to acquire such knowledge and gain such experience as they will have use for in everyday life.

According to this fact, a pupil cannot do, outside of school, anything essentially different from that which he has done in school. Also he will accomplish more in the acquisition of his knowledge and skill if he is interested in his task than if he is not interested in them and does not feel any desire to attack them.

More and more education is becoming a practical matter, something for the equipment of life and not a useless enthusiasm.

Colorado Sugar Beet Crop Ready to Gather

DENVER, Sept. 15.—The sugar beet harvest in Colorado will start September 15 with prospects for the largest crop in the history of the state. The eighteen factories of the Great Western Sugar company will commence slicing about September 30. Approximately 8,000 persons will be employed in and about the factories during the season in addition to the thousands who will find work in the fields. It is anticipated that initial payments on the beets will be somewhere near $15,000,000 and that additional sums to be paid later as the sugar is sold, will raise this total to $30,000,000.

HUNDREDS FIGHT TO HALT FLAMES

Wearied Crews Battle Sweep Of Fire That Menaces Foothill Region

In check, according to the latest reports. Another link in the defense of the Pasadena watershed is being welded at the headquarters of the Tujunga river, from which point a crew of 150 men is pushing an extension fire break, to join with the Barley Flats section. As the latter project neared completion today, the lapping flood of fire advanced three miles westward from the line established Saturday, and was temporarily checked slightly over a mile northeast of the Big Santa Anita canyon.

Warns of Danger From Fires In Foothills

The Glendale unit of the Angeles Forest Protective association will meet Wednesday night, September 17, at 7:30 o'clock in the City Hall, where matters of importance will be discussed, and it is desired by Chief P. J. Hayselden that a full attendance of crew leaders and members attend. Mr. Hayselden points out that the public living in the vicinity of the foothills are asked to refrain from burning grass or rubbish until the rainy season opens, as the risk of fire is so acute. Orders have also been issued, he states, forbidding the discharge of firearms in the hills, not only because of the danger of fires, but also because of the risk that exists of shooting some of the fire patrols.

The association is planning to hold a barbecue Sunday afternoon at Verdugo Woodlands, full details of which will be announced later.

SCORES RADICAL HYDE PARK TALKS

Canadian Colonel Denounces Treason Preaching by British Orators

LONDON, Sept. 15.—A Canadian colonel has taken the lead in protesting against what he terms "treason preaching" in Hyde Park, London.

Colonel A. F. Hatch, the pro- tester, and president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, clearly does not approve of the policy of allowing agitators to give expression to their revolutionary views in a public park.

Predicts Trouble "I know," he says, "that Britain has set aside a space in Hyde Park for free speech in regard to religion, politics and the harmless expressions of theorists, but I do not believe it was ever intended as a meeting place for red revolutionaries to organize gangs to terrorize the people and to arrange and encourage treason against the Empire."

"If this vicious propaganda is allowed to go on, serious trouble is bound to occur, and we in Canada want it stopped. This propaganda is already spreading throughout the United States, and much of it emanates from the school conducted in Hyde Park."

Italian Immigrants To Settle In Mexico

NOGALES, Ariz., Sept. 15.—More than 150 Italian immigrants recently landed in Sinaloa, Mexico, where they will settle on lands already provided for them in the vicinity of the city of Culiacan, one of the most prosperous farming areas on the entire west coast of Mexico, a land noted for its fertility and production.

It is generally believed that this group of Italian immigrant farmers constitutes the vanguard of many more to follow, as high officials of the Southern Pacific company recently visited the states of Sonora, Sinaloa and Nayarit in quest of lands with the object in mind of colonization. In this party of officials were foreign representatives of the company from France, England, Germany and Italy, and it is stated that the result of their trip was favorable to the colonization scheme.

Awarded Beauty Prize

Mlle. LILIANE MAY, France's most beautiful girl, captures the coveted honors at the Deauville beauty contest against the beauties of many nations.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—About this time of the year Deauville is one of the beauty meccas of the world. They flock to the resort from the United States, South America, England, the Orient, and from all over Europe.

So the seasonal beauty contest at Deauville is of some importance. This year Mlle. Liliane May was selected as the prettiest of the thousands of pretty girls who have visited the resort in the season. She is French.

Veteran Gets Desire To 'Die In His Boots'

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 15.—Fate gave Thomas Walters, 60, of Vancouver, his wish of sudden death. A Canadian world war veteran, after twenty years' service in the British army, Walters visited the post-war military doctor owing to a slight indisposition. After examination he was informed that he would live to 80. "I don't want to," he told a friend afterward, "I want to die with my boots on."

Five days later Walters, who was employed as a zoo attendant at Stanley Park, Vancouver, was in a shed preparing his lunch. He had a teapot in his hand when a seventeen-pound rock, dislodged through a blast set off 136 feet away, hurtled through the air, striking the attendant and bringing instant death.

Rise In Bread Price As Wheat Advances

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Close on the upward rise in wheat prices in the United States, English bakers have increased the price of bread two cents a loaf. On the basis of Board of Trade statistics this means an increase of $900,000 per week in England's bread bill. England uses 300,000 hundred-weight of imported wheat daily, and nearly half of this comes from the United States and Canada.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—There was little to relieve the monotonous character of the stock market today. Trading dwindled to about the same volume as in the last few sessions of the previous week. Activity was largely professional, with bearish operators little disposed to renew the hammering tactics which produced a fair degree of success last week.

An attempt to unsettle the industrial list by selling American Can, Baldwin and other of the market leaders brought out a small amount of stock and thereafter the market continued to drift within a narrow radius. Stock sales today $28,600 shares; bonds $10,096,000.

L. A. EXCHANGE

By Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—Weakness developing in the market over the weekend displayed itself in light sales this morning on the Los Angeles stock and bond exchange. Practically no utility bonds were offered and only the sale of 21,000 Miller & Lux ranch securities brightened the list at $102.75.

Oils were traded principally in the stock issues. Julian common opened at $11.50 and, climbed to $12.50. Preferred was snapped up quickly at $20, and buying pressure forced the price to $20.75. In the last few odd lots $20.25 was obtained.

Union Associates sold at $57. United at $35. Union of California at $132.25 and Standard of California at $57. U. S. Royalties opened at $6.50 and dropped back to $6.

Edison common at $98.50 and Sun Finance at $1.10 were the only other active stocks with the exception of small sales of Telluride and Richmond in the mines.

Standard Oil of Indiana and Nebraska have cut gasoline prices to meet independent competition. President Barneson of General Petroleum in San Francisco says "the trouble with the oil industry now is that there is simply too much oil."

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Grains were irregular at the close today. Wheat closed 1 1/2 @ 2 1/4 up; corn finished 1/2 @ 3/4 off; oats closed 1/4 off to 3/4 up.

COMMUNITY LOYALTY—COMMUNITY LOYALTY—COMMUNITY LOYALTY—COMMUNITY SERVICE—COMMUNITY SERVICE—COMMUNITY LOYALTY—COMMUNITY LOYALTY—COMMUNITY LOYALTY

Community loyalty is essential to highest community development.

COMMUNITY CO-OPERATION

The real Glendale booster spends his dollars in Glendale.

Realizing the Great Community Development Truth that a City Grows exactly as its Business and Merchandising Institutions Grow, these firms have given their hearty endorsement to the movement for co-operation between Glendale merchants and Glendale consumers

Quiet Boosters Do Their Part in Building Glendale

A Glendale man once made the remark, "When I go away on business or for pleasure, and meet strangers, I tell them I live in Los Angeles. It saves time explaining. They do not know where Glendale is." That was when Glendale was a village and few people knew of its existence, for it had no postoffice and no railroad station and did not appear on any map. No doubt the man saved time by this method, but his was not the spirit that builds communities. He thought Glendale a good place in which to live, but he didn't want to take the trouble to tell others.

Everyone knows where Glendale is now, and there are few Glendale men who would forego the pleasure of telling strangers they live here. Glendale people now are known for their boasting propensities, both at home and abroad. This spirit of pride in Glendale has helped mightily in her development.

But, the true booster doesn't confine himself to words alone. He takes advantage of every opportunity to speak a good word for Glendale, of course, but his motto is, "Actions speak louder than words." The true booster takes an active interest in community life; he usually owns a home in Glendale; he spends his money in the Glendale stores.

It isn't necessary to speak loudly or to say much to be a Glendale booster. Glendale's best boosters are hundreds, yes thousands, of her citizens who own homes here, spend their money here, and go quietly about their daily work. Community loyalty is as instinctive with them as love of family and allegiance to country.

The men and women represented on this page are Glendale boosters. They are community builders. They are trying to maintain places of business worthy of Glendale, and to give service of a high character. They are working for a Greater Glendale and they ask your co-operation.

Adeline Woodbury to Attend Private School

Adeline Woodbury, talented 12-year-old danseuse and saxophone artist, will not give up her music for school, neither will she give up book learning for saxophone lore. An arrangement has been made whereby Miss Woodbury will be enrolled at the Los Angeles Coaching school, announces her mother, Mrs. M. H. Woodbury. In this way Adeline will continue her musical education and at the same time learn the ordinary things that boys and girls her age are supposed to know.

This ends the controversy that was raised when Richardson D. White, superintendent of Glendale city schools, appealed to the county council's office for a ruling in Miss Woodbury's case and was told by Deputy County Counsel Roy Dowds that it would be necessary either for the child to go to school or have a private tutor.

Glendale Choral Club To Meet September 22

Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, president of the Glendale Choral club, has called the first rehearsal of the club at the Harvard street high school on Monday, Sept. 22, at 8 o'clock, to begin preparation for the presentation of "Cowan's Rose Maiden," under the direction of J. Arthur Myers.

The 1920 United States census shows that less than one in 2,000 persons in this country are blind.

Mrs. James Rae Tells About Journey Abroad

A letter from Glasgow, in far-off Scotland, bearing the greetings of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Rae of 126 North Louise street, has reached J. M. Powers of the Atlas Steamship Co., 119 East Broadway, who booked their passage.

"The trip up the Firth of Clyde was simply ideal, for the day was like one of our Southern California days, the sun shining and the water calm," writes Mrs. Hazel W. Rae, as she is known at the real estate office of J. E. Barney, 131 North Brand boulevard. "The Athenian, on which we made the trip, left Montreal Friday, August 1, at 10 o'clock in the morning, and we arrived the following Friday at dawn, on the Tail of the Bank, and at Princess pier at 7:30 o'clock, so I think we did very well, making the best run the ship has ever recorded."

"We are glad Glendale is going ahead with her building permits, as we see from The Glendale Evening News, which Mr. Barney sends to us regularly and which we surely do appreciate. I was listening in on the radio the other evening and the announcer was saying that a little place close to London had had nine inches of rain that day. Think of it, practically Glendale's total for last season!"

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Rae may reach them at 129 Kenmore street, Pollockshields, Glasgow, Scotland.

Joseph R. Harker, president of Illinois Women's college, never went to college until after he was a member of the college faculty.

J. A. ENDICOTT IS BACK FROM TRIP

Glendale Realtor and Family Enjoy Two Months' Visit In North Sections

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Endicott and their two daughters, Misses Bernice and Virginia Endicott, returned Saturday afternoon to their home at 423 West Broadway, after a two months' motor trip to San Francisco, Portland, Seattle and many points in Oregon, where Mr. Endicott, who is well known in Glendale as a realtor, was born and spent his youth. The party left Glendale July 20.

At Myrtle Point, Ore., they visited Mr. Endicott's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Endicott, and a sister, Mrs. K. Lecky. They took many motor rides, visiting such points of interest as the famous Oregon caves.

Visit Relatives

They visited at Bandon, Ore., another brother, Dr. S. Endicott, and also Dr. Roland Leet, son of Mrs. K. Leet. At Marshfield, Ore., they stopped with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lyons and Mr. and Mrs. C. McC. Johnson, Mrs. Lyons and Mrs. Johnson being sisters of J. A. Endicott. And at this point they also visited a brother, Dr. Charles Endicott.

At Towers, Ore., they visited Reed Endicott, another brother, and also visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fish. In San Francisco they visited a number of relatives as well.

The trip was delightful in many respects, Mr. Endicott reports, but even far north the country is dry and not beautiful as in other years. They were all glad to return to Glendale, which he believes is to witness a big activity this winter and fall.

Start On Fine Mausoleum

The upper picture shows the artist's conception of how the mammoth mausoleum at Grand View Memorial park will appear when completed eight months from now. The lower picture shows the steam shovel beginning the work of construction.

Ground was broken Saturday at Grand View Memorial park for the immense marble and steel mausoleum that is soon to lift itself there in stately beauty, looking out forever from that high plane upon the encircling hills, the largest single unit of its kind in the world, according to Len C. Davis, president of the company.

A great steam shovel now puffs and bites great buckets full of earth from the hallowed ground, lifting them to waiting trucks with one gigantic sweeping motion characteristic of the modern engineering genius that stands back of this monumental project. To Cecil E. Bryan of Pasadena, a man with a record of more than $15,000,000 worth of mausoleum buildings, has been awarded the contract to raise here a building that, Mr. Davis states, will become one of the most imposing monuments to the departed ever built.

In selecting Mr. Bryan for the large-scale enterprise, declares Mr. Davis, it was his idea to spare no expense in retaining the most widely-known mausoleum engineer in the United States, a man who has erected these imposing structures from coast to coast, and is considered pre-eminent in his field. Associated with Cecil E. Bryan in the architectural work is Clarence L. Joy, himself well known.

"Erecting this building in one large unit makes it possible to sell crypts at a price that the average man can pay, less than one-half the current price," said Mr. Bryan in an interview. "This, mind you, in a building finished in a high-class manner with the finest marble quarried in this country, beautiful art glass, bronze doors, wonderful chapel, and everything that could be had at any price. The maintenance cost will be materially reduced also. The arrangement is such that the interior upkeep will be practically nothing.

For Average Means

"This is in contrast to buildings of less than 1500 crypts, where the maintenance cost is so excessive that they are allowed to run down and become neglected as soon as the original promoter has sold out and turned the building over to the purchasers. It has always been my ambition to erect such a building as we are constructing at Grand View, and I welcome the opportunity. I have always been for the man of average means. Any institution that expects only to cater to the people of wealth cannot long endure."

Len C. Davis, president of the Grand View Memorial Park company, states that over 90 per cent of the crypts in the forthcoming mausoleum have been sold to the people of Glendale, Pasadena and Los Angeles, the largest number in Pasadena, to which it is considered particularly accessible.

Mammoth Mausoleum

We are breaking ground today for the colossal monument of enduring beauty, dedicated to departed loved ones.

A Wondrous New Mausoleum to Rise in Completed Units

This is an interpretation of an ideal of beauty expressed in lasting loveliness of polished marble and bronze.

Subdued lights filter softly through cathedral glass windows, adding to the luster of bronze and the cool gleam of marble.

Into this House of the Silent 5700 crypts and 200 smaller receptacles for individual vases will be built, most of which have been sold.

In the beautiful chapel of mosaic and marble tall Italian vases lend grace to offerings of growing flowers. This chapel is non-sectarian and is only to be used for funeral ceremonies.

Below the chapel is the crematory, containing four retorts. The finest of its kind the world produces.

Thus rises in serene stateliness a huge structure of magnificence, cloistering forever the memory of precious ones who have gone before.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

HIVES (URTICARIA)
 "Dear Doctor:—I am 34 years old, five feet, two inches tall and weigh 135 pounds. I have chronic hives and have had them for four years. Shouldn't I go on a diet? If you could only see me, these hives are in mass formation, as large as bread and butter plates. My feet and joints swell, and oh, what itching!—C. C."

"P. S.—My sister got your book on reducing, and by eating properly she has regained her health. She does your exercises like a veteran."

According to our rule of 110 pounds for five feet in height (in stockings feet) and five and one-half pounds for every inch over that, you are about 16 pounds overweight. Mrs. C., and the chances are that you took your height in shoes. If this is so, you are about 26 pounds overweight. If you had gone on the same reducing diet that your sister went on, you probably would have got rid of your hives along with your excess fat.

The cause of ordinary hives (urticaria), and in some forms of eczema and asthma, is some derangement of the intestinal tract so that the food products, especially the protein products, enter the circulation in an unfit stage to be used by the system. This causes an irritation of the blood vessels. There is a spasm of their walls and the fluid part of the blood, with some of the white corpuscles, escapes into the tissues. This causes the white swelling or wheals and the itching which characterizes the disorder.

Different foods seem to be the offenders with different people. Canned meats, pork, shellfish, strawberries and coffee are most frequently ascribed as causes. Some English investigators claim that in hives there is a deficiency of lime salt in the blood, causing the blood to go through the walls more readily.

Other Causes
 There are other things that apparently cause hives in susceptible people besides a derangement of the intestinal tract. For instance, direct exposure to sunlight or other light, cold, mechanical irritations, heat, scratching, burns. It is probable that in these cases there is also some trouble with the normal absorption of food. There are quite a few people who suffer from sunlight hives, especially on the neck. I have a friend, who one summer when dresses were cut in the V neckline, had a patch of hives shaped like a V on the exposed part of her neck.

In the 1924 meeting of the American Medical Association, in the scientific section, there was an exhibit of pictures of backs and arms of patients suffering with urticaria, of the type known as dermatographia (derma, skin; graphia, writing). One picture showed the perfect image of a hand which had been brought up by slapping the skin gently; in others, all sorts of odd figures and names were shown.

Treatment
 The treatment consists in getting the intestinal mucous membrane in working order again. A dose of castor oil followed by an exclusive milk diet or bread and milk, or better, shredded wheat biscuits on whole wheat and milk, for three or four days, is effective in many cases. Other cases are benefited by an exclusive fruit diet. Gradually bring the diet to normal. External applications do not seem to have much effect. As the trouble usually comes from the disturbance of the nerves and the blood vessels underneath the skin, you can see why lotions would not have much effect.

Begin to add the different foods to your diet one at a time, and you may find out which is the offender now.

Now, in your case, Mrs. C., go on this initial milk diet and then go on the reducing diet. I am sure you will be helped.

Tomorrow—Poison Ivy (Dermatitis Venenata)
 My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith. We will use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

CUCUMBER COSMETICS
 The woman who likes to make her own beauty preparations will find this an excellent time to make cucumber creams and lotions for the rest of the year. The first thing to do is to prepare the cucumber juice, which can later be made into an essence, or mixed with benzoin, to keep it for winter use.

Take large, ripe cucumbers, slice them thin, skin and all, and then boil them slowly in a very little water, only enough to keep them from burning. Mash as they soften, and when they are quite soft and mushy, put them through a sieve, and put that pulp through a cloth bag. To make cucumber milk (a marvelous whitener for the throat and for very sensitive complexion) set aside ten ounces. If you can get an ounce and a half of alcohol from the druggist, mix it with an ounce and a half of cucumber juice (this in addition to that 110 ounces). The druggist will mix it for you, since it's hard to buy alcohol.

Now make the milk. Four ounces of oil of sweet almonds, ten of fresh cucumber juice, three of cucumber essence, one-quarter ounce of powdered castile soap, two-thirds of a drachm of tincture of benzoin. Dissolve soap in the essence, shake, add the juice, shake, oil and benzoin and shake. It takes a lot of shaking, but it's a nice, creamy liquid when you're done. It's a wonderful bleach. The arsenic in the cucumber is what does it.

Make strong cucumber juice now and if you're not ready to make it up into cosmetics, keep it in a dark, cool place, well corked in bottles, first having added one ounce of benzoin to ten of juice. This will keep it sweet, and make it astringent, too. In that case, add no benzoin to the formulas when making it up.

Mr. W. A. H.—At 21 years with height of 5 feet 4 inches, your weight should be about 125 pounds. You can gain weight by taking a quart of milk each day.

X. Y. Z.—Several times each week apply a mixture of equal parts peroxide and ammonia to the superfluous hair. This will bleach it and probably weaken its strength so that it will disappear. Extract the coarser hairs with tweezers.

A Constant Reader—The small flat-surfaced brown moles are easily removed, but the work should be done by a reliable dermatologist. Raised moles that are without color, may also be removed; but never try to remove a red one. Consult a reliable skin specialist.

D. H.—Your nails may be rough because they are in need of oil. Massage some oil or cream into them every night, preferably a nail cream. Most people who do housework should feed the nails in this way.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, please enclose a stamped and addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

August seems to be the favorite picnic month, judging from the number of letters I receive at this time of year asking for picnic suggestions. And I believe there is no more delightful way of entertaining one's friends than to invite them to a Picnic Party.

Both old and young may take part in a picnic. It is not necessary to send out invitations. Nor is an automobile an absolute necessity for conveyance to the guests to and from the woodland spot chosen as the scene of the event. A trolley car will do equally as well.

It will simplify matters if the hostess puts up the picnic lunches in individual packages and request each guest to carry his own. The individual guests' own sandwiches, hard-boiled eggs, apple, wedge of pie, small bottle filled with iced coffee, paper napkin, spoon, fork and tin cup. The following games may be played before and after these refreshments are eaten:

Obstacle Race—Map out a course to some tree or rock in the distance and start everybody going toward the tree-goal (or rock-goal) at once. Of course the course must take one around this clump of bushes, over that brook (perhaps), around a certain old stump three times, and so forth. The one to reach the goal first receives some such simple prize as a lollipop.

Water-Cup Contest—Have each guest place his individual tin drinking cup at a certain spot, each cup in line. Fill a pail full of water and stand it some distance from the line of cups. Everybody takes a teaspoon and goes as rapidly as possible from pail to his particular cup, carrying water in the spoon. The one who first fills his cup in this difficult way wins. (If it would be better to fill the cup to the brim, the hostess may put a chalk mark on the inside of each cup about half way.)

Walking the Line—Give each contestant a piece of white string one yard long. Fix upon a distant goal. Each person must place his string on the ground, stretching in the direction of this goal, and then, still keeping one foot on the string, he must again stretch the string toward the goal and again walk its length. Repeat this process till the goal is reached. The one who reaches it first wins.

Lame Duck—Again fix upon a distant goal. Everyone must hold up the left foot and hop on the right foot to this goal. He who gets there first wins.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department will be answered in the columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, please enclose a stamped and addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

CHAPTER LII.
"To say goodbye, he said. He asked for you, and I said I thought you were asleep, and he said not to disturb you. He'll be back Wednesday night. He's going to have a man's dinner for Serge Levin on Friday."

"Good-bye!" He had gone, to the Dwyers first, and from them, on Sunday afternoon, to Canada. She would not see him, nor hear his voice, until Thursday! This biting, gnawing unrest must somehow be borne until then.

It was eleven o'clock, past eleven. And Violet Dwyer was to call for him at eleven this morning. He was gone.

Hilary presently walked out into the sharp, shining air. She went up to the new apartment, met Craig's mother there, lunched later with her, and with Craig, at the Plaza, chatted with a fine earnest woman there regarding the music for a Charity Bazaar, walked downtown and stopped at one or two shops, read signs, avoided traffic, looked into beautiful windows, and finally came home weary at five o'clock, to find a charming little Madame Le Noir calling—a bride, who had met Miss Collier at a tea and who was hungry for the sound of her own language. Hilary and she talked of Paris for an hour, and the young Denise told her husband later that Miss Collier's great charm was that she was so sympathetic, so absorbed in what one had to say.

But as a matter of fact, during this entire day, Hilary was actually conscious of nothing. She drank air, she ate straw and dust, and far-away voices spoke to her. She was wrapped in her own thoughts, able to appreciate at last what Dora had been experiencing all that long summer. It was in just such a haze as this that poor Butterfly had moved, dreamy, absent-mindedly, sweetly kind and interested in other people's affairs, simply because that was the quickest way of disposing of them.

On Sunday she and Mrs. Spaulding made a pilgrimage to Hudson, the older woman touched by Hilary's willingness to go. Rodney Spaulding's widowed sister, a dreary woman with dark black hair and odoriferous weeds, lived in Hudson, and for every one of the many years since he had left home as a boy he had gone there to spend his birthday and hers, together. Only the last few years had broken the chain, and now, with his anniversary so close, his own widow had decided that to renew this custom would be consoling to her and to her sister-in-law as well.

So Hilary made with her the cold long run, dined between the two quiet, elderly women, walked out into Hudson's bright snows under bare trees the next day, looked at old pictures, played old music, visited old graves, and charmed the old servants. She went to a ladies' card-party on Tuesday with Mrs. Spaulding and Mrs. Richie, and won a rock-crystal bowl as first prize.

And all the time her heart said "Konrad — Konrad — Konrad," like a clapper going back and forth in a bell, and she felt that her smile had grown cryptic and concealing, like Dora's own.

They came back to town on Wednesday afternoon; there was mail, but there was no letter. Her heart sank. He had telephoned on Saturday morning, to be sure, but not to her. And since then there had been no word. Craig told her that she was growing pretty; she laughed deprecatingly and indifferently. Dora was full of small gossip; Hilary had to ask her to repeat again and again.

He would get in late on Wednesday night; at any time after that the telephone might ring—

Suppose it did not ring? What would—what could she do? Could she not telephone to ask how old Von Mandescheid had enjoyed the winter trip? Surely—

But her face burned. She was maneuvering like any common little maid-servant. She must simply wait, as women had been waiting since time began.

On Wednesday, at about ten o'clock upon a gray, snowy morning, Alice came in with the mail. Hilary, who was dressing to go out with Mrs. Spaulding, took it with a sudden spasm of actual pain at her heart. Under the other letters was a big, limp, foreign envelope; she could see the violet ink.

She stood it on her dressing table, her heart thumping in regular hammer strokes that almost suffocated her. It was postmarked "Montreal"; he had written her on Monday, then, she calculated, looking at it comfortably and leisurely, as it stood before her.

Her other mail was not important; Hilary opened it first. The Bates child was marrying Harry Dunlap; it was amusing to see "Doctor and Mrs. Foster Miller"

MAHURIN'S PLAYERS

"A Mad Honeymoon" intrigued a large audience at its Glendale premiere last night at the tent theatre of Mahurin's Players (Murphy's Comedians), corner of Central avenue and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo. The play is built for laughing purposes and succeeds admirably in fulfilling its author's intention.

It depends for its fundamental situation on a most ingenious piece of business. A large sum of money is placed in the pocket of a coat, which disappears and later bobs up at intervals, furnishing, alternately, laughter and thrills in large doses.

"A Mad Honeymoon" is what the name implies, and more. All the matrimonial mishaps that newlyweds are heir to have evidently been catalogued by the author and a selection made of the best. Those who have "taken the plunge" will enjoy this play and those who contemplate a leap into "honeymoon lake" would do well to see it and learn what they are up against.

She took up Konrad's letter; held it in her hand. There was a conscious delight in the slow opening of the flap. He had written her in French.

THE GATEWAY

What is said to be the most original plot ever employed in a comedy is woven into Douglas MacLean's "Never Say Die," which comes to the Gateway Theatre tonight and Tuesday.

The picture is a screen version of Willie Collier's great Broadway success which kept New York laughing for a year and then played in every principal city four seasons with Nat Goodwin, as the star.

The story is a delicious tale all about a young man of vast wealth with an erroneous idea he has not long to live. To prevent his fortune going to charity, he is induced by a young artist friend to marry a beautiful girl, so that she may inherit his wealth.

The girl has already engaged herself to the artist, who is counting on sharing his friend's wealth when the proper time comes. As was to be expected, the bride never becomes a widow and the romance develops into an exciting conflict between love and duty.

A laughable satire on the divorce business figures in the plot with more hilarious situations when the unhappy married hero and his pretty victim try to conceal the fact that they are nearly crazy about each other.

In his endeavor to join the girl on a steamer about to sail the hero has the wildest and most exciting chase through Central park ever recorded on the screen. The finish is said to provide the largest and heartiest laugh ever found in a comedy either on the stage or screen. It would spoil the fun to tell it.

Also as an extra added attraction all the week the Gateway will present Herrmann the great and Mlle. Gladys. Herrmann is a world-renowned magician in the mysteries of East India, offering fantastic comedies and weird problems. He is the last of the celebrated Herrmann family of conjurers. Mlle. Gladys is the girl with the radio mentality, she is a master seer, a woman whose brain is a receiving and broadcasting station for all that has been or is to be.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE WATERMELON

"Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello! Hello!" grunted Mr. Twistytail, the gentleman pig, over the telephone to the bunny gentleman in his hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"Hello! Hello!" answered back Mr. Longears. "What is it?" "Do you like watermelon?" asked Mr. Twistytail.

"Indeed I do, and so does Nurse Jane," answered Uncle Wiggily. "Then come down to my farm and get two—one for yourself and one for Nurse Jane," grunted the gentleman pig.

"I am going to have a delightful adventure!" laughed Uncle Wiggily as he went hopping, skipping and jumping down the path, waving his paw in a good-bye to Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

And, though he did not at the time know it, Mr. Longears was going to have a very surprising about it, I shall tell you all about it, if you please.

It did not take the rabbit gentleman long to reach the farm of Mr. Twistytail, the pig gentleman. Mr. Twistytail was waiting at his gate for the bunny.

"I have come for the watermelons," said Uncle Wiggily. "Have you any big, round fat ones, Mr. Twistytail?"

"Indeed I have!" grunted the gentleman pig. "Many of my watermelons are as big and fat, almost as I am!" and he laughed in the most jolly way, for Mr. Twistytail didn't mind being big and fat—in truth he rather liked it.

Mr. Twistytail led the way down the path to that part of the farm where the watermelons grew, and the pig gentleman picked out two of the large green fellows for his friend, Uncle Wiggily.

"Take one under each paw and hop home with them," said the pig, as he picked the melons, which were half asleep, on the ground. "They are ripe and red inside, full of sweet, watery juice, and I hope you and Nurse Jane enjoy them."

"We are sure to, thank you," spoke Uncle Wiggily, hopping along with a watermelon under each paw. Now the melons were large and rather heavy, and the bunny could not hop very fast. And when the Bob Cat and Fox, who were hiding behind some bushes, saw this, the Bob Cat whispered:

"This will be a good chance to catch Uncle Wiggily. He can't push us away with his paws, because he is carrying two watermelons."

"Right you are!" snarled the Fox. "We'll catch him." Taking a short cut across the lots, the two bad chaps hid behind a stone and waited for the bunny to come along. Which he did, pretty soon, carrying his melons.

"Now we have you!" howled the Bob Cat, jumping out. "Now we're going to nibble your ears!" barked the Fox, also jumping out on the path. "You can't do anything to us because you are carrying two big melons."

"Oh, can't I? Well, we'll see about that!" shouted brave Uncle Wiggily. Now it happened that Mr. Twistytail had cut holes in the ends of the two melons to see if they were ripe enough. And when the Bob Cat and the Fox stood in front of the bunny, ready to grab him, all of a sudden Uncle Wiggily just squeezed those melons under his paws as hard as he could squeeze them.

And it was just like when you squeeze a rubber ball filled with water. Out of the holes in the melons shot two streams of red juice. The juice and Bob Cat, Squishy, squashed, went the watermelon juice in their eyes.

"Oh, I can't see!" howled the Fox, jumping up and down. "And I can't see!" snarled the Bob Cat, jumping sideways.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny. "Then, if you can't see me I'm going to run away and leave you." And he did, reaching his bungalow safely with the watermelons, while the Bob Cat and the Fox were still wiping juice out of their eyes with their paws.

The rabbit and Nurse Jane had a fine watermelon feast. And if the piece of cheese doesn't jump off the apple pie and try to go swimming in the bottle of milk, I'll tell you tomorrow about Uncle Wiggily and the honeysuckle.

FROCKS ARE SIMPLE

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Frocks for the very little lady—of say, two or three years—are growing more and more simple. The accepted mode of the moment is white batiste trimmed with a bit of lace, preferably of the fanciful sort which has a pussy cat pattern.

Extra! City Employees Really Catch Fish!

The thirty anglers from the city hall who went out Sunday in Captain Larson's barge "Anabel," off
San Pedro, to retrieve their lost reputation as disciples of Isaac Walton, "brought home the bacon" to the tune of approximately 1000 pounds of fish.

The finny denizens include yel-lowtail, whitefish and mackerel and Ray L. Morrow, city attorney, is threatened this morning with thirty suits at law, involving an equable distribution of the catch, each angler claiming he caught the most.

A gloom was cast over the party at the last moment, when it was learned that Dr. G. Kaemmerling, city health officer, would be unable to join the party, as it was felt his professional services would be required. They were required, all right, according to Lieutenant
W. J. Royle of the Glendale police department, but the best that could be given was a little first aid from time to time. Virgil B.
Stone, city manager, and D. Ripley Jackson, postmaster, were the life of the party, and saw to it that A. J. Van Wie, city clerk, kept full minutes of the meeting,
which have been ordered framed.

Received With Kisses

When Lieutenant Nelson

thousands watched her.

For a moment the flyer seemed stunned, and he half-struggled to release himself from the embrace.
"Why, Mrs. Palmer, what a sur-

"My husband taught him to

La Follette Ballot Dispute In Court

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—
Whether the names of the electors for presidential candidate Robert M. La Follette will appear on the November 4 ballots hinges upon the action taken by the state supreme court in a petition for a writ of mandate brought by Rudolph Spreckels against Robert E. Graham, county clerk of Marion county.

The petition would compel the county clerk to place the names on the printed ballot. Graham refused to incorporate the names on his official lists on the ground that the election laws do not pre-vide for the direct nomination by petition of candidates for the office involved.

Last year more than 1,200,000 persons visited the fifteen national
